In "Later On," which Hallen and Hart offer as a New Year's attraction at the Grand Opera-House, Author Donolly has seized upon the popular subject of racing as a theme. Fred Hallen's role is that of Jack Plunger, a better on horse races, and Joe Hart's that of Jolly Todd, a Sheepshead Bay bookmaker. Both these characters are readily recognized by "track" frequenters, and their many dilemmas furnish no end of fun and joility.
